Dear Driver Ed Instructor:

As you welcome the new school year, the South Carolina Trucking Association introduces to you the SCTA Road Team and to an awesome (and short) Video for use in your classrooms!

Because sharing the roads with larger commercial motor vehicles is one of the most challenging tasks young drivers need to learn, we want to supplement your library with this American Trucking Association video. This video takes viewers through an engaging lesson on critical highway safety habits and aims to capture the attention of the next generation of highway motorists, teaching them life-saving driving skills.

The SCTA Road Team is composed of professional truck drivers who are available to the public to speak about the industry, careers, and safe driving practices. We want to make Road Team members available to participate in career fairs, classrooms, assemblies, and drivers' education classes. They can customize presentations to suit the focus and size of the group. They may be able to bring their tractor-trailers to show the students what it is really like behind the wheel, promoting first-hand awareness of blind spots and the need for extraordinarily safe driving practices around larger commercial motor vehicles.

As you begin planning your school year, please consider these complimentary services of the South Carolina Trucking Association.
